In-person, you'll want a binder. Unit folders on your computer will be best for virtual school (unless you print everything—then get a binder).

Suggested annotating materials are most useful for printed texts.

From College Board: “The AP English Literature and Composition course focuses on reading, analyzing, and writing about imaginative literature (fiction, poetry, drama) from various periods. Students engage in close reading and critical analysis to deepen their understanding of the ways writers use language to provide both meaning and pleasure. The AP English [Lit] and [Comp] course aligns to an introductory college-level literature and writing curriculum.”

Objectives and Expectations

- 1. Work hard: This course is college-level, dual credit, and weighted. The A in AP stands for advanced.
- 2. Be responsible: Be where you are supposed to be, when you are supposed to be there, with what you are supposed to have, doing what you are supposed to be doing.
- 3. Ask questions: I can't help you if I don't know you need it. You can't fully grasp the material if you doubt something. Speak up!
- 4. Set goals and reach them: Like the turtle on the fencepost, an AP score doesn't get higher on its own.

Grading Policy

Summative Assessments : 45%

Formative Assessments: 25%

Semester Exam: 30%

Late Work Policy

I will not collect a unit's work after its summative assessment for any reason.

I will collect work past due work before the summative to provide you feedback, but if the assignment has been entered in the gradebook, I will not change the grade.

Re-take Policy

Retakes are always at my discretion.
